

Assistant or Associate Professor
Position #36107

Department of Landscape Architecture
Faculty of Architecture
University of Manitoba
Winnipeg, Manitoba
Canada

Posting Start Date: 28 February 2025

Posting End Date: Posting may remain open beyond the date of 31 March 2025, until filled.

The Department of Landscape Architecture, Faculty of Architecture, invites applications from outstanding candidates for a full-time tenure-track (probationary) or tenured position at the Assistant or Associate Professor rank, commencing August 1, 2025, or on a date mutually agreed upon. Salary and rank will be commensurate with experience and qualifications.

Candidates will be committed to excellence in teaching and research in landscape architecture, with an interest and ability to work with allied disciplines and apply innovative and creative approaches to their work.

Responsibilities

Duties include instructing studios and lecture courses in the Master of Landscape Architecture program and the Landscape + Urbanism option of the undergraduate Environmental Design program. The teaching load will consist of two studios and one lecture course or one studio and two lecture courses each academic year, and graduate student supervision.

The position also requires the appointee to engage in scholarly activities, encompassing applied scholarship, creative work, professional practice, or research, and to provide service within the University and/or the broader community. Further specifics about activities and criteria for excellence related to teaching, scholarship, and service are outlined in more detail in the Faculty of Architecture Guidelines for Tenure and Promotion pdf: chrome-extension://efaidnbmnnnibpcajpcglclefindmkaj/https://umanitoba.ca/architecture/sites/architecture/files/2020-03/architecture-guidelines-for-tenure-and-promotion.pdf

The appointee will report to (and be assigned teaching duties by) the Head of Landscape Architecture.

Qualifications

The successful applicant must:

- hold an accredited degree at a master's level or equivalent in landscape architecture.
- demonstrate the ability to provide design studio instruction at both the graduate and undergraduate levels.
- have expertise in key areas of landscape architecture research and practice that can enrich the graduate program and the department research profile.
- demonstrate achievement in creative practice, applied scholarship, and/or academic research.

A post professional degree, including a doctoral degree, is an asset but not required.

A qualification for professional licensure by the Canadian Society of Landscape Architects (CSLA) is also an asset but not required.

To be considered for the position of Associate Professor, candidates must demonstrate a record of high-quality scholarship, recognized leadership, and evidence of successful teaching in line with the Faculty of Architecture Guidelines for Tenure and Promotion.

Additional Information

The Faculty of Architecture at the University of Manitoba is dedicated to excellence in the design of the human environment. We offer an undergraduate program in Environmental Design and fully accredited graduate programs in Landscape Architecture, City Planning, Architecture and Interior Design, as well as a PhD program in Design and Planning. We aim to provide an inspiring learning environment based on ethical principles and profound knowledge to prepare students for the complex demands confronting practitioners in the design disciplines. Additional information about the Department of Landscape Architecture can be obtained from <https://umanitoba.ca/architecture/department-landscape-architecture>.

The Master of Landscape Architecture at the University of Manitoba is the oldest graduate program in the discipline in Canada. The Canadian Society of Landscape Architects fully accredited the program, giving graduates formal recognition throughout Canada and the United States.

The Province of Manitoba (www.travelmanitoba.com) encompasses prairies, boreal plains, boreal shield, taiga shield, Hudson plains, and southern arctic ecozones. While the university is in the southeastern part of the prairie region, the province affords a wide range of research as well as recreational opportunities.

The City of Winnipeg (www.tourismwinnipeg.com), located on Canada's Treaty One Territory where the Red and Assiniboine Rivers meet, is recognized for its vibrant, multicultural community and diverse culture. The city is home to internationally renowned arts scenes, including a major symphony orchestra, Canada's Royal Winnipeg Ballet, and Qaumajuq – the Inuit Art Centre at the Winnipeg Art Gallery, which houses the world's largest public collection of contemporary Inuit art. Its population is diverse, reflecting multiple waves of immigration. To paraphrase storyteller Stuart

McLean: Winnipeg is a city that can be hard to get someone to move to, but once they are here it's one of the hardest to get someone to leave.

Applicants are requested to submit a complete application package as a PDF with the following:

- cover letter providing a statement of interest in the position
- current Curriculum Vitae
- portfolio of their professional, creative, and scholarly work, including a statement of scholarly intentions
- examples of student work (if applicable)
- name, address, and email address of three referees from whom confidential references may be obtained.
